

AMANDA GORE

CSP CPAE

What makes Amanda different from other speakers?

Using her expertise in group dynamics, she creates long lasting, memorable experiences that change your event

She always gets people excited, enthusiastic and energised with entertaining and interactive presentations - they connect, bond and gain a new perspective on life and business

She constantly changes her presentations to include up to date, relevant information and she can adapt on stage to what is happening in the group - how they are reacting to the information

She gives people tangible strategies and skills they can use immediately and they do! Their behaviour changes straight after the conference

She can bring teams together, get them over politics, differences and create teams that work well and collaborate better - all while they laugh at themselves!

Her messages apply to leadership, sales, customer service, life, relationships or to your entire organisation. They are universal principles of life and performance and she adapts them accordingly and ties into your goals for the event or group

Her presentations are money back guaranteed!

Follow her or contact

