Who is Amanda Gore?

As a communications and performance expert, Amanda believes success in business is always about feelings – the way we feel about a product, organization or person influences how we behave and informs our decisions about how we spend, or with whom we conduct business.

Taking the stance that business has been paralyzed by its own over-analysis, her presentations break down the barriers that separate people in an invigorating, action-packed ride towards self-discovery and ultimately, real and lasting change.

She demonstrates how people can re-connect to the energy and emotional layers that really drive performance, innovation, relationships, engagement and creativity in their business and personal life utilizing positive psychology, epigenetics and emotional intelligence.

.... and all this very intelligent sounding stuff means basically that:

People who are happy at work are 31% more productive, sell 37% more and are three times more creative. They make better team players, handle change more effectively, become more positive and are much more engaged.

Amanda makes your audiences happier - for a long time and gives them strategies that work on how to stay happier!

She based herself in the US for eight years during which time she was voted as one of the top three speakers by leading speakers' bureaus and inducted into the US Speakers Hall of Fame.

Amanda is engaged by some of the world's biggest corporations to help business leaders achieve results by getting people engaged in, enthusiastic about and aligned with corporate goals and vision.

In between delivering an average of 60 presentations in Australia and the US every year Amanda has written five books, produced several DVD and audio programs and has accumulated over 1.6 million views on her You Tube channel.

"When Amanda Gore was suggested as a speaker for our sales meeting, I had serious doubts. What could a woman with a physiotherapy background do with a male-dominated, demoralized, fragmented capital equipment sales team coming off a bruising competitive year?... We've used every type of speaker in the past, from star athletes to big-name motivational speakers. Inch for inch, pound for pound and dollar for dollar, Amanda Gore was the best speaking investment we ever made!"

- CEO, Hobart Kitchen

"Amanda Gore was an inspiring, uplifting, informative delight that our members were discussing the entire remainder of the meeting. I cannot impress upon you enough how well she was received. Amanda's presentation was the most audience - inspiring performance we have ever witnessed. I would extend my highest recommendation to Amanda Gore."

- Executive Director, Aluminum Extruders Council

"Meeting planners have to ask themselves if the speaker that they are looking to hire is worth what they paid. I am here to tell any meeting planner who wants to know, the answer is YES. Amanda is worth every penny and about $60,000 more! I have hired speakers who charge $40,000 and more and they did not leave the audience with a fraction of what Amanda did."

- Business and Professional Women USA

"You made such a difference. I spent most of this week out visiting the branches. Wow - it's catching on! Everyone is using the tools you gave them. I make financial decisions every day about how to use our budget wisely. You were the best investment we have made yet. We will earn 'dividends' for a long time."

- VP Wells Fargo Bank

"Amanda Gore is without question the best investment our organization has made in the last few years, and her message helped connect all attendees with the vision of our hospital. She has an inherent ability to reach a wide variety of people, and this has had a profound impact on the culture of our hospital. We literally had employees wanting to attend her session on all three available days, as many of them said that Amanda's session was the best thing they had ever attended."

- SSM Health Care

"Amanda Gore brings a level of energy, enthusiasm, humor, and intelligence far above the conventional 'motivational speaker' you may be seeking for your next meeting. If you want to make your meeting memorable, and I do mean memorable (attendees are still talking about her presentation and message), and send people home on a high note, Amanda is the speaker for you."

- American Association of Diabetes Educators

"I was lucky enough to experience Amanda at a conference I attended back in 1989 when I first started working in the media industry more than 20 years ago. She blew me away and since then has been one of the most memorable speakers I have seen to date (and yes I have seen a lot!). When I was charged with finding a keynote speaker for the Media Sales Summit I knew I had to track her down. And that I did. The group was a tough, cynical bunch, feeling a bit jaded with the plethora of conferences on at the time. I watched her shine as she brought them back to what really mattered, JOY. We had so much fun and through it learnt more about life and what it really is all about. Thank you Amanda, as always you are a much-needed STAR in this ever-changing world of ours. With Gratitude."

Why Joy is the new competitive advantage

“The results of over 200 scientific studies on nearly 275,000 people - found that happiness leads to success in nearly every domain of our lives, including marriage, health, friendship, community involvement, creativity and in particular, our jobs, careers and business. Data abounds and shows that happy workers have higher levels of productivity, produce higher sales, perform better in leadership positions and receive higher performance ratings and higher pay, they also enjoy more job security and are less likely to take sick days, to quit or become burned out.” From The Happiness Advantage by Shawn Achor, who studied this at Harvard Business School.

A healthy, joyful, profitable corporation is a living, organically emerging organism. All the parts need to be connected, communicating and treating each other with reverence and respect. It needs to be connected to, and communicating with its customers and partners in business. In the current financial economy, a transformation is needed in the way companies operate.

Social responsibility is another way to say CEOs and leaders must find the corporate heart and connect to it – and make sure that all parts of the company, customer and community are connected to that heart - where the joy is created - and results follow.

A Leaders’ job is to:

1. Change people’s behaviors
2. Create an environment in which people can be the best they can be
3. Help people to believe in themselves and their own abilities

Whenever I ask an audience “What is the number one thing that people want in life?”; without exception, the vast majority answer ‘happiness’! Happiness is only one component of joy, which is what people really want - and need!

Joy consists of 12 pillars or building blocks: Gratitude is the foundation; compassion and grace, hope, reverence, generosity- giving and receiving, forgiveness, energy and vitality, listening, laughter, love, cheerful enthusiasm and equanimity are the others.

Most of these pillars are now being shown in the field of positive psychology to be important components for healthy teams, productivity, performance, creativity and a healthy bottom line. They are critical leadership skills that can be learned and developed.

Being happy at work has also been found to create environments where colleagues collaborate better, spend more time volunteering, receive better supervision evaluations, are more highly rated by customers, are better decision makers, and exhibit less work turnover.

There is a big difference between joy and fun. Joy is much deeper and comes from a sense of serving and gives people far more fulfillment than just have ‘fun’ or a ‘good time’ that has no purpose or meaning.

We all want to enjoy what we do, to feel energized by it, to learn, develop, grow and feel we are making a difference. Gen X and Y will walk if they don’t feel it, while the rest grow disengaged.

Corporate joy is not the common language of the corporate world – but it is the new competitive advantage. Some of these values are appearing in organizations that are transforming themselves to meet current challenges – but employees are often cynical. Progressive leaders in the USA and Australia have begun writing about these issues and how important they are for change; and neuroscience is showing us that our brains can and need to change – they are not hardwired and inflexible.

The decision to change can be exciting and rewarding – but the rewards need to come early and often with celebration of achievements as soon as they happen. That inspires us to keep going.

Why what Amanda Gore talks about matters!

When people's hearts and minds are engaged they are a lot more productive:

I once consulted to a pillow-making factory. After the Ash Wednesday fires, the owner offered to open the factory on a Saturday and donate the supplies if any of the staff wanted to donate their time. They made more pillows on that day than at any other time in the history of the company! Because they perceived that their work had purpose and meaning, they felt good about what they were doing; they were contributing to something worthwhile.

People are 43% more productive if they are engaged – Hay Group

When someone really understands they behave differently:

Consider this scenario from Stephen Covey's "7 Habits of Highly Effective People": a woman is sitting in a train. A man with 2 small children comes in. The children are going wild, running about and making a lot of noise. The woman annoyed that her peace is disturbed, perceives and judges the man as inconsiderate and selfish, not caring what impact his children have on other people. Accordingly, she looks disapprovingly at the children and glares at the man. A few moments later, a passenger, noticing this reaction, leans over to the woman and whispers, 'He has just come from the hospital where his wife died.' In a heartbeat, this previously angry woman is filled with compassion and starts to play with the children, she smiles at the man and talks gently to them. She feels differently and so behaves differently.

We don't realize how our mood affects everyone at work:

A boss bursts out of his office, his face red with anger; he storms across the office to the bathroom and slams the door behind him. Immediately, every person is on red alert. They have no idea what has happened but- they feel worried. For the next four hours, people are unfocused and productivity is appalling as everyone is wondering if they will have jobs tomorrow; if the company is in trouble - or worse, if they are in trouble. Finally, someone has the courage to ask him what is wrong. He, still angry, bursts forth with a tirade on the people repairing his Porsche car and how they are charging him $800. For four hours, 20 people were in a state of dread based on the perception that something was seriously wrong - in a heartbeat they were stressed. When they heard his 'reality', they relaxed and started to work effectively again - right here, right now!

Employee engagement, collaboration and customer service is about feelings:

How we perceive and feel about our CEO and company determines what pride - and confidence - we have in the company. How we perceive and feel about our boss and vice versa is critical for employee engagement. How we perceive and feel about our colleagues' impacts on collaborative teamwork and innovation. Positive perceptions of and feelings about our customers transform our relationships with them - and the companies' reputation. How people perceive and feel about change is based on how it is introduced to them.

Your performance is determined by your perceptions:

Perceptions really do matter. Your mood matters. How you see, hear and interpret the world around you determines your beliefs, attitude, level of engagement, performance and behavior. Your performance - at home and at work - is determined by your perceptions.

Feelings really matter at work:

We will do business with people we like (a feeling); we will do our best when we feel cared for and that someone is interested in our growth and development. When we feel good, we do our best work. Do your people feel their jobs are secure; do they love what they do, feel that their bosses care, excited about what they do because it makes a difference and that they are learning and developing?

If not, it's time to change their perceptions - and how they feel - by inviting Amanda Gore to speak at your event!

Wired for Joy – 9 Ways to Enhance Wellbeing, Increase Sales and Boost Productivity

You were born with the capacity for joy! Science shows us that by the time you were 7, your pure 'operating system' of love and joy was infected with viruses, malware, apps and other people's programs! Joy at work boosts sales by 37%, increases productivity 31%, reduces errors 18% and boosts chances of promotion 40%. Joy matters! Your brain can be rewired for joy. This session teaches you how.

It's aimed at helping people feel good about themselves - which is the essence of wellness and changes the way they interact with everyone else. It's great for energising the whole group, de-stressing them and reframing the way they view change, have them rolling around laughing while they learn about the importance of 'the joy spot' - the place where neuroscience, epigenetics, emotional intelligence and positive psychology intersect! Amanda presents profound concepts, in an entertaining way that change people's perceptions of themselves and others; gives them specific strategies to bust stress, lead more effectively, fear less, and to be more collaborative, creative, innovative and productive.

Amanda will cover the latest new science of stress - which will not only show you how to reduce the impact of stress, but also how to change your reactions to it permanently! Did you know that what people think about stress or stressful situations is the 15th biggest killer of humans in the USA? And it is potentially a source of great resilience, productivity, engagement and courage when handled correctly.

The Joy Team – How Optimism Connects, Motivates and Engages

The major disruptor to collaborative teams, joy filled workplaces and high production, sales and service is 'stinking thinkin' as Zig Ziglar used to say! The stories people tell themselves about themselves, their colleagues, customers, bosses and the company determines their behaviour.

This presentation helps people understand how to be conscious and mindful of their thinking and stories - and how to change them. And more importantly, why to change them. The formula  $T + S = F$  ...thinking (stories) + speaking = feeling - rules everything. How we think determines how we feel, which determines how we behave - but the source of everything is our thinking. 95% of the time we are operating from an unconscious level - we don't even know what we are thinking! Everything in business, when boiled down, is about feelings. They determine the quality of all relationships at work, leadership, teamwork, sales and customer service.

This session also has the opportunity to finish with a 21-day challenge for the team to look at how they are thinking and what they are thinking and strategies on how change it. It's fun, full of laughter and has a profound impact on how they perceive everything. If you want your change fatigued team enthusiastic, motivated and re-energized this session will do it!

Neuroscience of Sales – 3 Ways to Sell Smarter

People have not fundamentally changed for a thousand years. The 'operating system' of a human is not binary based! It's more like quantum computing and runs on feelings. Learn new neuroscience based practical skills and strategies to help you sell more of your products, ideas, services and yourself in a way that leaves everyone feeling their needs have been exceeded. Using Amanda's signature experience creating, humor loaded yet fact filled style, people will walk away thinking differently about sales and how they interact with others. We focus on the one thing you can do that will transform your sales results - and then learn some more!

Fundamentally we need to sell ourselves first - to prove that we are trustworthy and safe (a feeling) to connect with in business. Learn new, science-based ways to:

- Be resilient and keep yourself motivated and enthusiastic
- Develop a modern sales mindset
- See customers as partners in business
- Listen properly (hardly anyone does) & connect non verbally (instantly)
- Establish life long relationships (in a short time) that create advocates not just customers

The Joy Formula – 7 Ways to Build Resilience and Restore Work Life Balance. It IS possible!

'Busy-ness' is the new 'disease' impacting almost everyone. Rushing and having the perception (and reality) of too much to do can destroy mental clarity and physical health.

Did you know that new research shows us how we THINK about stress decides if our bodies react negatively or not. Our perceptions rule our reality and in part, create our environment. How we view life balance also determines the physiological impact it has. These factors all affect our resilience.

Understanding the 3 possible stress responses and channeling them in the right way changes everything! How we feel, how we respond to those events and how others in turn respond or react.

Amanda will discuss in the Joy Formula how the Life Pizza is a simple and easy way to review important aspects of our lives and become aware of imbalances in what areas are most important to us and what areas we put most of our attention on - which then allows us to make a plan to improve that balance. It is also the way to introduce concept of resilience and teach them several 'resilience strategies'. This is an engaging experience that sends people out of the room laughing and determined to balance their 'life pizza' with the joy formula!

The Joy of Mindsets – 3 Must-Have Skills for Change

You are not your mindset - but your mindset creates your life! Our mindsets are at the source of everything! Understanding mindsets and mindfulness literally changes your brain and improves performance, leadership, decision-making, creativity; reduces anxiety, stress, depression and reactivity; they increase energy, wellbeing and makes you happier. This session will show you simple ways to stop being mindless, be more present, more effective - and more joyful!

Being mindful is 'waking up' - about becoming more conscious - and living more consciously - which is one of my core themes. Most of us are running on habits and patterns of thinking from our past! We don't even know those patterns are subconsciously programming our present. Think driving a car. How mindful were you in your first few lessons? Now, how often do you arrive home and you don't even know how you got there - yet you were driving the car! This is a common theme with anything we learn - we are mindful in the beginning and then we become mindless! The difference between a growth mindset and a fixed one is the difference between a joyful life and a stressed, unhappy one!

So...how to be more mindful of your mindsets? Many people think that meditation is the answer to mindfulness but there is another path! Here are 3 things you can do to be mindful not mindless.

- 1 Observe your thinking!
- 2 Question rather than assume!
- 3 Reframe and find gratitude.

And here is a simple strategy for handling discomfort and remaining mindful - NAWOL.

- Notice any discomfort inside you
- Accept it - and be
- Willing to allow it to be there
- Open your heart (stops you judging)
- Let it go

You will be surprised at how it helps! And brings you back to a more mindful state.

This is one of the practical skills she shares - Observe your 'mind state' all day today - with the goal in mind of becoming aware every time you are mindless! Every time you are not present. Every time you are trapped in a pattern of thinking from the past that creates fear. Then STOP - OBSERVE - QUESTION to become mindful again. Be the one who is mindful of their mindset!

Amanda's Workshops

Workshops or Breakout Options

Any of the above keynotes can be extended or combined and made into workshops

The Same But Different - Are Women Really from Venus?

Do you wonder if the opposite sex really does come from another planet?

Are you frustrated because you have no idea how your partner thinks and there is no logic to what they say or do?

Do you just wish they were just more like you?!

Amanda will show you how to bridge the communication gaps between men and women - without wanting to slap them! Using science, experience and her mothers' wisdom Amanda will give you strategies that work - and make you laugh!

You Can't Change a Customer's Attitude, but You Can Change Yours.

Traditional sales courses focus on communication styles and techniques that are still important...but everyone knows them. Teach your team the latest subtle verbal and non-verbal techniques to create partnerships - not just relationships - with your clients or customers. Partnerships are the next level to aspire towards - while everyone else is just working on relationships, you can be focused on creating true long-term partnerships!

There are many secrets to enhancing rapport, connection and delivering unpalatable messages without destroying relationship as well as building ongoing loyalty with customers or clients. All relate to our ability to communicate and connect. This session explores how to find out what our clients really want, at much deeper levels than before which then allows us to serve their real needs better than our competitors - and with more flexibility, options and choices.

The Neuroscience of Leadership

Neuroscience is the scientific study of the nervous system, which doesn't sound relevant to leadership - but as leaders and team members are humans, our nervous systems control pretty much everything in our bodies, so linking the two is important!

A leader's job is three fold:

1. To change people's behavior (and yes, neuroscience shows us it's possible)
2. To create an environment in which people can be the best they can be (lined to the nervous system which affects performance, creativity, innovation and happiness)
3. To help people believe in themselves

We might think the nervous system is just the brain - but the heart and stomach have millions of 'brain' cells (neurons) in them - so you 'think' and feel with your heart and gut as well! And all leadership - or sales or customer service or teamwork or culture - is based on feelings. How you feel about yourself ...and how you make others feel.

This session blends latest findings in neuroscience, epigenetics, emotional intelligence, positive psychology and some common sense in a really funny way - we promise you will laugh! But wait, there's more, it is full of relevant information and skills that will help you be a better leader - whether that role is part of your title or not!
